POSITION SUMMARY:

Student Success Specialists (SSS) serve the triple function of community liaisons, admissions recruiters and student advisors. They are the primary point of contact for students, assisting them throughout their college career from admissions to graduation. As admissions recruiters of adult learners, SSS's provide outreach to local businesses and attend community events. They also provide outreach to high schools to recruit students for post-high school enrollment as well as dual enrollment. Excellent verbal and written communication and presentation skills are essential. Associate degree or higher is required.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

- Advise students, parents and community members on policies, procedures, and processes
- Respond to student questions, requests, and concerns
- Prepare for and participate in recruitment activities to include, but not limited to, presentations at community service organizations, schools, local businesses and chambers of commerce
- Serve as the community liaison by visiting businesses and participating in community events that allow the College to "meet students where they are" in recruitment and public relations efforts
- Provide students with assistance accessing various college offices, functions, and programs
- Serve as the first-line contact for admissions, advising, testing, registration, special needs accommodations, veteran's services, and financial aid
- Educate and assist students in navigating the website, including student portal and online student service processes
- Communicate to students clearly and concisely and document all conversations and interactions
- Other duties as assigned
